

□

16th-Century Post-Nasrid Inlaid Taracea Tabletop Cabinet

A sixteenth-century tabletop cabinet, probably from Granada, Spain. The rosewood and exotic hardwood case and bracket feet inlaid with micromosaic ebony and bone, a Spanish and North African technique known as taracea, favoured by the Nasrids. The two cabinet doors opening to reveal a fitted interior of eleven drawers surrounding a central locking compartment, the inner door inlaid with intricate geometric parquetry.

Height: 51 cm Width: 60.5 cm Depth: 36 cm

REF: A00151

£18,850.00

YAVINGTON BARN, LOVINGTON LANE, AVINGTON, HAMPSHIRE, SO21 1DA
T. +44 (0)1962 791124 www.maxrollitt.com E.info@maxrollitt.com